Word was received from the Office by the Ministry, that H. M. S. Bedford was soon to leave for Esquimault. There was no further information as to her about that was to join that station. It is thought probable that she will relieve one of the vessels at Esquimault, and a fourth vessel, the Albatross, at the same time. When the Ministry left the Coast the Albatross was still with the rest of the China squadron.

WILD MAN HAS BEEN CAUGHT AT LAST

For Three Weeks He Roamed Woods in Neighborhood of Scow Bay.

The wild man has been caught, although it is not the wild man seen on several occasions by Mike King. This is a new wild man, who had read the yarns told by Mike and who went crazy and fancied himself the real thing. His name is Cameron, and for three weeks he roamed the woods in the neighborhood of Scow Bay. When he was discovered by the neighbors Constable Lucas, of Van Anda, was notified, and for three days the man was chased through the tall timbers. At last he was caught and brought south to Vancouver on the steamer Queen City.

MAKES CHARGES OF FRAUD AND CORRUPTION

Testimony Before Legislative Investigating Committee Creates Sensation.

(Times Leased Wire.) Seattle, Wash., Aug. 9.—J. P. McGuire, a local real estate dealer, testified as a witness before the legislative investigating committee this morning and gave an astonishing account of alleged fraud and corruption, involving members of the Supreme Court, attorneys of high standing and business men. He testified that he had seen money paid to an attorney who was in "the" Supreme Court judge; that he saw a typewritten copy of an alleged document, before it was rendered by the Supreme Court, embodying a precedent by which a later case could be easily "read." McGuire produced original copies of papers showing "corruption" involving the division of certain property which was to be won by agreement with the Supreme Court and gave the names of other witnesses to these alleged transactions, besides making public the identity of the persons who were the alleged "corruptors."

Among these alleged "corruptors" mentioned was Mrs. Sarah L. Brown, of Seattle, who was subpoenaed this afternoon to appear before the committee.

Mrs. Brown, when interviewed this afternoon, denied that she had ever had any connection with McGuire, or had seen Palmer, or had anything to do in any way with the case mentioned by McGuire. She acknowledged having had some business dealings with McGuire, but denied ever having any acquaintance with Palmer.

PRESERVATION OF FORESTS

OBJECT OF NATIONAL IRRIGATION CONGRESS

Clash Expected Between Bolinger and Chief of Forestry Bureau.

(Times Leased Wire.) Washington, Aug. 8.—The House will have to precipitate a clash between Secretary Bolinger, of the Interior Department, and Chief of the forestry bureau, G. B. Hays, of the Department of Agriculture, in the event of the passage of the bill for the preservation of forests and the establishment of a national forest system. Bolinger, who is a supporter of the bill, is a strong advocate of the preservation of forests, and Hays, who is a supporter of the bill, is a strong advocate of the establishment of a national forest system.

Those who advocate free timber are usually known to their attitude and are inspired with a belief that such a policy will have the effect of greatly lowering the price of forest products to the consumer. I am convinced that these premises are wrong. Possibly for a short period following the reduction of the tariff and consequent admission of Canadian timber, a slight reduction in the cost of forest products to the consumer might take place. This would be but temporary, for the Canadians who have been cutting the timber of the United States and Canada would be forced to raise the price of their timber to the level of the United States and Canada. The result would be the same as if the tariff were removed.

The preservation of our forests is the foundation principle of all the valuable objects that we seek to attain, and then which is the most important to-day to our country's commerce and industry. The forest is the source of our timber, and the timber is the source of our commerce and industry. The forest is the source of our timber, and the timber is the source of our commerce and industry.

LIE PASSED AT EARL CREWE MAY COOK LECTURE COME TO CANADA

EXPLORER HAS LIVELY TIME IN MONTANA LIKELY TO BE NEXT GOVERNOR-GENERAL

Resolution Expressing Confidence in Veracity of Guides is Adopted.

(Times Leased Wire.)
Hamilton, Ont., Oct. 29.—At the opening of a stormy session in the house here last night, during which charges and counter charges were hurled back and forth between the friends of Edward N. Barrell and Lord Morley, and those who declared they desired to see fair play given to the latter, the resolution was adopted by a large majority vote in the house of the guides, the audience adopted a large majority vote in the resolution expressing confidence in the veracity of Barrell and Priz, the resolution being presented by City Attorney Wagner, counsel for the guides. This resolution was a substitute for the one offered by J. H. Durston, editor of the Anacostia Standard, in which he sought to have the meeting declare a lack of faith in the part of the entire people of Montana in all matters about which Dr. Cook has made claims.

While the action of the meeting was unfavorable to Dr. Cook, the explosion of his coolly and calmly and gave no indications of having taken the matter to heart at all. The excitement of the meeting did not come until after Dr. Cook had delivered a brief lecture on his trip to the North Pole, and had delivered his supplementary message regarding the ascent of Mount McKinley.

As soon as he had finished, Attorney Wagner, counsel for the guides, arose and challenged the statements of Dr. Cook. This precipitated an animated discussion on the part of the partisans of both Cook and Barrell. Barrell was finally called to the stand and declared that Cook's statements regarding the Mount McKinley trip were incorrect. Cook was replied by asserting to Barrell's fact that the latter's statements were false. Barrell answered the doctor's assertion by demanding to know why the doctor did not make an affidavit to the effect that he had scaled the mountain.

The challenge had no sooner been issued than it was accepted by the doctor, and an affidavit was given by the explorer on the platform in the presence of the audience, in which he declared that he did ascend Mount McKinley, that Barrell was with him at the time and that the latter's statements were left on the summit of the mountain.

Further discussion of the disputed ascension led to the bandying of charges and counter charges back and forth at a lively rate. Barrell's attorney and friends defended the statements of the doctor, while the guides, contented for fair play to all.

Greetings from the Queen, Queen Alexandra, in the presence of day from Dr. Maurice F. Egan, American minister to Denmark, conveyed her greetings to Dr. Frederic A. Cook, and expressed absolute confidence in his polar achievement.

Dr. Cook's letter, dated Oct. 29, in part says: "On Sunday night last at the King's dinner at Charlottenlund, Her Gracious Majesty, the Queen of Denmark, was kind enough to take a long time to me and you were the principal subject of her conversation."

"She said, 'When I read, Shkabeton comes on Saturday I shall endeavor to meet him, if he is not already accompanied by a cook or the Countess of Holsenstein.'"

The hospital and dispensaries which need to be built will not be confined to the cities alone, but will be scattered through sections inhabited by the "Power" waterfalls, and there will be separate hospitals for negroes.
